

Love
By Angela Darku

Love met me in all its disguises
In cool undertones of blue
In unexpected places
A rainbow of colours I never knew
Distant from heated dancefloors of fatal lust
Where spoken words were woven on strings without trust
Love held my fragile hand
Dancing its soulful rhythm to the soothing notes of a jazz band
Calming the waves of a restless soul
Rebuilding broken bridges
Making me whole
