

You Are Special

By Geoffrey Tabrah

A one off

You are special

There's nobody else like you.

The smile, the frown, the glare,

Nobody can do that like you.

A smile that brightens up the world

That shows you are happy, friendly and content.

The frown that shows you're puzzled and questioning,

And the glare that shows you're displeased.

They form the character of your face,

The beauty that lies within what you see in the mirror.

Look again, don't always hide it behind a cloud.

Happiness is you

Enhance the smile

Show the brightness of your eyes

Let people see that you are special

Because you are.
